

I am Marcos Acosta. I am a green card holder.

I live in Homestead, FL, but I'm moving to Atlanta, GA in March 2024 so I am interested on jobs in that region.

In 2018, I moved to the United States to complete a Master of Divinity. After that, in 2021, I started working as Senior Pastor of Homestead Mennonite Church. These years I was not involved in IT but they helped me to develop strong leadership and intercultural skills.

Now I am transitioning back into technology, and I am particularly interested in cloud computing. I am doing a certificate in DevOps to learn how to help organizations build and release software more efficiently, and I am studying to take the AWS Solutions Architect Associate exam.

These are some of my Tech Skills: AWS, JIRA, BMC Remedy, Microsoft Office, Linux, Python, IP Routing, Troubleshooting, Public Speaking, Terraform, Docker, Jenkins, Databases, Kubernetes, Linux, and CI/CD tools, Agile methodologies

These are my interests: Travel, nature, tennis, soccer, music, technology.
